

How Will YOU Be Remembered?

LoveRussia.org

A gift in your will to Love Russia could give vulnerable orphanage leavers the help they need to integrate into society, since so few manage the transition on their own. Any kind of gift, whatever the amount, is hugely appreciated as it could bring about big changes and transform lives.

Some people choose to leave a residuary gift (a share of an estate) as it maintains or increases in value over time and remains in proportion, ensuring any beneficiaries are cared for. Others choose a set amount or specific items they know are of value.

Including a gift to Love Russia in your will is easy:

- If you're making a will for the first time, all you need to do is give your solicitor our registered address and charity numbers (which you'll find below) let them know your wishes and they'll do the rest.
- If you have a will, please complete the codicil below and give it to your solicitor.
- If your wishes are straight forward and you've made a will of your own, simply include the codicil, or written consent to this effect, with your own paperwork that's been validated with a witness.

Love Russia doesn't need to know if you've decided to make a gift in this way but if you'd like to tell us, we'll ensure you're properly thanked for your generosity. If you've any questions about leaving a gift or would like to talk about our work, please contact us on 0115 983 1100 or postmaster@loverussia.org

Thank you.
